No. 84.—The following notification of the Government of India is republished:—

FINANCE DEPARTMENT.

Calcutta, the 15th June 1932.

No. D/1230-E.—The Government-General in Council has passed with sanction the Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the accounts of the Government year 1927-28. The Report is in the month of the kind and thoroughness of the evidence of a careful and conscientious examination of the various documents presented by the accounts.

3. In the present Resolution it is proposed to refer, at the outset, to the important questions of the discharge of the Reports of the Committee in the Assembly and, at the same time, to deal with the important question of issuing a Resolution of the character in future. The document arrived at on the 15th of the month of the Report for the year 1927-28 will then be stated; for the first, separate memoranda dealing with individual points raised in the Report will be placed before the Public Accounts Committee during the coming session, while the action taken on the less important ones will, in accordance with the usual practice, be communicated to them in the form of a statement.

3. Paragraph 35 of the Report.—The Committee have dealt at length with the question of instituting a suitable provision for the discharge of these Reports in the Legislative Assembly. They have suggested different alternatives, but, at the same time, expressed the opinion that it is desirable to avoid doing any preliminary without ascertaining the views of the Assembly. Accordingly, during the last Public meeting, the Honorable the Finance Member gave notice of the intention to move "that the Report of the Public Accounts Committee on the accounts of 1927-28 be taken into consideration." The intention was that the Assembly should be enabled to express their views on the question of procedure on that occasion. Owing to the presence of other business, however, it was not possible for the members to be in a position to do the last day of the meeting, and thus, as the members of a new session, they was decided to postpone its consideration until the next session. In the circumstances, the Government in Council refrain from expressing any particular view on the subject in advance of a full discussion in the Assembly.

4. This, however, does not prevent a decision being taken on the proposed question of issuing a Resolution of the present type in future. In the memorandum, which forms Appendix V to the Report, it has been pointed out that it is unnecessary that a single Resolution should be based on a Report which deals not with a single subject but with a large number of transactions having no necessary connection with each other. It has also been urged that, if a Resolution of the Report were to take place in the Legislature, to issue a Resolution in advance would be premature and inappropriate. At the same time, however, it was recognized that the matter was really one for the direction of the executive Government. It may now be accepted as the intention of Government that a discussion of the Report shall take place in the Assembly from year to year, although the exact procedure adopted by the Assembly may vary from time to time. The Governor-General in Council, while fully aware of this fact, has given his careful consideration to the matter and come to the conclusion that the following proceedings should be adopted by Government in future. The Report of the Committee will normally issue by the end of October each year. As soon as it appears, the Finance Department will, as recommended in paragraph 14 of the present Report, prepare lists containing the points and recommendations which concern each department and circulate them to the departments concerned for immediate action. The disposal of each case will be watched by the Finance Department, and the decision arrived at on each point will be communicated to the other departments as soon as it is taken. In these circumstances, no special resolution will be required. The Finance Department will prepare a quarterly statement showing the action taken up to date on each case and will forward this to the members of the Public Accounts Committee for information. The Committee will, of course, have an opportunity of examining the adequacy of the action taken when they meet to consider the accounts of the following year. The above procedure will apply in all ordinary cases in which the recommendations of the Committee are either wholly accepted or accepted in all but unimportant particulars. If, however, any case should occur in regard to which there is a material difference of opinion between the executive Government and the Committee, a full memorandum on the subject will be drawn up and placed before the Committee at a subsequent meeting, and the Assembly will have an opportunity of discussing the subject later under the procedure contemplated in paragraph 20 of the Report.

5. Paragraph 5 to 8 of the Report.—The Governor-General in Council enters with satisfaction into the improvement in the collecting order the various heads since as a whole has been maintained during the year under Report and, in view, that the tendency to create excessive direct expenditures has become much less marked. He thinks that an improvement of the system of lump sums is good, the improvement will continue. He concurs in the view of the Committee that it would be most advantageous if a specially experienced officer from the Finance Department could permanently visit all the collecting offices, look around to conduct their work and have constant communication with the outstanding officers; and also in the Committee's suggestion that it is important to secure efficiency in the staff of the department which is to be employed on Government work. In the time which has elapsed since the appearance of the Report it has not been possible to appoint any officer with the requisite experience for the work outlined. Efforts are however being made to arrange the staff so that a suitable officer may be selected for this special work, and with this end in view, a recent man was, some time ago, brought in for training to the office of the Controller of the Currency.

6. Paragraph 12 (iii).—It is noted that the Committee consider that it should be accepted as an obligation by Government that applications should be found during the course of the Assembly for the presentation of supplementary demands and that, inasmuch as the voting of grants is the primary function of the Assembly, the extent of time is not available ought, in all circumstances, to be secured. The suggestion is in accord with past practice which will be scrupulously continued.

7. Paragraph 13 (iii).—In connection with a case in which the representatives of an important business concern having large business transactions with the Posts and Telegraphs Department had been allowed for some years a free use of the trunk telephone lines between two important places as an act of courtesy, the Committee recommend that the Government should consider the question whether they have any power to secure services which it is authorized to carry under a statute and which authoritative opinion on the legal position. Such opinion has been obtained and it is the following effect:—

(i) If the provisions of the statute regarding the making of contracts are purely permissive, Government have the requisite authority to refrain from making such services where they think fit.

(ii) If, however, the provisions are mandatory, Government's power would depend upon whether the statute does or does not provide for exemption. If it does not, Government are to perform the service; but if it does, then Government's power would be regulated by the actual wording of the provisions relating to exemption.

Further cases will be dealt with accordingly. In the particular case which gave rise to the discussion, the exemption has been discontinued by order issued in February 1909.

8. Paragraph 15 (iii).—The Committee consider that the decision on the question of strengthening of audit or Company law should be expedited. A model scheme of audit was prepared by the late Accountant General, Railway, for submission to the members of Company-managed Railways. It followed the same line as the voluntary audit prescribed in respect of the internal check carried by the Accounts Offices of Government or State-managed Railways who had been appointed in accordance with the scheme of separation of audit and accounts. The scheme was approved by the Auditor-General and has since been introduced, as an experimental measure, for three years with effect from the 1st April 1906.

9. Paragraph 17 (iii).—The procedure adopted by the Committee in regard to the supply of Administrative Reports to the members of the Committee has been introduced with effect from the current year and will be followed in future.

10. Paragraph 21 to 25 (iii).—The Governor-General in Council accepts the interpretation of the term "new services" in the different in-laws deal with by the Committee in paragraphs 21 to 25 of the Report. He concurs in the view expressed in paragraph 27 that the estimates should not be allowed to substitute for a proper account by the Legislature another project the full cost of which will be considerably more, and also that, in such cases, the control of the Finance Member should be rigidly exercised. In order to enable the Standing Finance Committee and the Standing Finance Committee for Railways to consider whether any scheme duration specified against his name is empowered to accept any statement made to him in this regard as an investigation under Chapter XIV of the said Code or at any time afterwards before the expiration of the enquiry as aforesaid.

7. Candidates are not allowed the use of books of any kind (except as permitted in rule 8). They are also prohibited from introducing into the examination room any book or portion of a book, slate, manuscript, or paper of any description, from communicating with or copying from each other, and from communicating with any person outside the examination room. Any candidate detected in the violation of these rules will be sent out of the room if it is found, and his conduct will be reported to the Registrar.

11. Particular attention is requested in the instructions regarding rough working and loose sheets of paper, printed or in answer books. All rough working must be shown on the left hand

4. Candidates are not allowed to amend the time assigned to a paper.

5. No candidate will be allowed to leave the examination room till the expiry of at least half an hour after a question paper has been given out; not a candidate who leaves the room during the period allotted for a paper will be allowed to re-enter within that period.
